4 Youths Held for 11 House Burglaries Here

Eleven house burglaries in this area during the past five months were solved yesterday with the arrest of four minor boys, it was announced today by Sheriff Jimmie Griffin.

Three of the youths live in and around Hope and the third at Bodeau. They operated in two separate groups. One pair broke into seven houses and the other pair four. The oldest boy is 17.

Practically all of the stolen items were recovered except cash which the boys had spent. The items included pistols, fishing rods, rings and many household items.

Their victims included the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Heelscher, Johnny Kramer, Mrs. B. D. Hodges, Mrs. Inez Lamb,

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. James Marcum and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Stewart, the latter being entered three times.

The Stewart home was hit last week, again Wednesday and again yesterday. Both gangs hit the Stewart home.

The youths were arrested yesterday afternoon and last night with the help of City Police Department, and the Arkansas State Police, Sheriff Griffin said.

The Sheriff said two of the youths had been under suspect for some time but officers hadn't been able to find them until yesterday.

U.S. School Aid Urged by State Educators

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of Arkansas educators yesterday urged seven members of the state's congressional delegation to support the federal education bill, but they got little satisfaction.

The congressmen seemed to fear that federal funds might mean federal control of schools.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) voted for and Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) against the school aid bill which passed the Senate recently.

The measure now is pending before a House Education Committee.

Rep. E. C. Gathings of West Memphis said he could not support the bill in the House because it does not give the states any protection against federal interference.

Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado said his position would depend on what amendments might be added to the bill. Harris said he does not believe the Senate bill has any chance of passing the House.

Rep. James W. Trimble of Berryville said he would support aid to education legislation provided the funds are controlled by the states the same as they use their own education funds.

Rep. Dale Alford of Little Rock said the delegation favors aid to education, but he warned, "We must be careful in our treatment that we don't kill the patient."

Rep. W. F. Norrell of Monticello was the only congressman not at the meeting.

McClellan explained he voted against the Senate bill because it could be used to force federal control on schools.

Fulbright said Arkansas' education needs are so great that he is willing to balance the possibility of federal interference against needs.

That was the general attitude of the delegation, headed by Forrest Rozzell of Little Rock, secretary of the Arkansas Education Assn.

Rozzell said that despite recent tax increases, Arkansas still is falling behind in its education efforts and that the state pays teachers an average wage of $3,300 compared to a national average of $3,025.

Rozzell said the Senate bill would allocate $13,749,000 a year to apply toward raising Arkansas teachers' salaries.

"To obtain this amount locally, he said, Arkansas would have to hike its sales tax to four per cent, increase its property tax 40 per cent, he asked, "Is it reasonable to expect that the people would agree to this?"

Rozzell, asserting he knew of no previous attempts at federal control of local schools, said 46 schools in Arkansas have received 20 million dollars in federal school funds during the last eight years.

"What puzzles us," he said, "is that if we have federal funds for all of these purposes without federal dictation, then where is the danger?"

Rozzell said Arkansas educators are aware of the implications in legislation but feel that the country's future lies in education, that "teaching must be a preeminent position."

"But," he said, "it can't be done in Arkansas on salaries of $3,300."

Rules Against School Board at Dollarway

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley today ruled against school officials trying to keep segregation in the Dollarway District near Pine Bluff.

Henley followed an appeals court mandate in restraining Dollarway officials from continuing to maintain racial separation in the schools.

The judge gave the school board 30 days to submit "an affirmative statement of its plans and policies designed to bring about an end to compulsory racial segregation."

Henley tossed out motions for dismissal of the Dollarway integration suit, which was filed by three Negro students seeking admission to an all-white school.

At Pine Bluff, Lee Parham, president of the Dollarway School Board, declined immediate comment on the ruling.

The Negroes — Earnestine Dove, 17, James Edward Warfield, 14, and Corliss Smith, 14, have tried for a year to get into the white school.

Henley had kept the latest pleadings in the complicated matter under advisement for weeks.

The Negroes petitioned for an integration order against the school after failure of their efforts to enter the white school under a state pupil placement law.

Last September, the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis reversed an order for immediate integration of Dollarway. This order had been issued by U.S. District Judge Axel J. Beck.

On Oct. 11, the appeals court elaborated on its reversal decision and pointed out that "we should make reference once more to our order directing that (the school board) be enjoined from continuing to maintain the system of unconstitutional segregation which has previously existed in the district and which the defendants heretofore have taken no steps to disestablish."

Supplemental complaints sought further relief as a result of the mandate returning the case to federal court at Little Rock. Henley dismissed these today.

Discussing the merits of the case, Henley said in a memorandum that "there can now be no question that under the Brown decision, compulsory segregation of the races in public schools is unconstitutional." He referred to the U.S. Supreme Court's desegregation ruling of 1954.

The memorandum said the defendants conceded this point, "and it is also conceded by the defendants that implementation of the principles laid down in Brown cannot be made to yield to public disagreement or be defeated by resort to unlawful violence... but Brown, while outlawing compulsory public school segregation, does not require affirmative race-mixing in the schools."

British Queen Gives Birth to a Son Today

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II gave birth to a son today.

An announcement from Buckingham Palace said the 33-year-old mother and her baby were both "doing well."

The baby, first born to a reigning British monarch in 103 years, arrived at 3:30 p.m. (10:30 a.m. EST).

The Queen's third child and second prince, the baby takes precedence in the line of royal succession to Prince Charles.

"The Queen was safely delivered of a son at 3:30 p.m. today."

The official bulletin said: "Her majesty and the infant prince are both doing well."

It was signed by the Queen's gynecologist and obstetrician John Peel, and her physicians Sir John Weir and Lord Evans.

The last queen to have a baby while actually head of the monarchy was Queen Victoria. Her youngest child, Princess Beatrice, was born in 1857.

There were indications that Elizabeth II had undergone a somewhat difficult labor.

Department Store Sales Are Up

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported today that department store sales in the 8th Federal Reserve District the week ended Feb. 13 were nine per cent above those of the corresponding period of 1959.

The largest rise was in the Memphis area, four per cent. Sales in seven smaller district cities dropped 12 per cent. The Little Rock area was up three per cent, Louisville fell four per cent and the St. Louis area rose two per cent.

District sales for the four weeks ending Feb. 13 were four per cent above last year's mark and the sales to date for 1960 are 5 per cent above those of last year.

L. R. Police and FBI in Joint Announcement

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two men of her own race were charged today with bombing the home of a Negro student of Central High School in the latest outbreak of violence over integration here.

They were named as Maceo Antonio Binns Jr., 31-year-old handyman, and Herbert Odell Monts, 17-year-old student at Horace Mann High School for Negroes.

Binns and Monts were charged with damaging property with explosives, the same charge brought against five white men in three bombings here last September.

Both Negroes pleaded innocent in municipal court which passed their case until Tuesday to let the prosecution bring the charges against them directly in circuit court. No bond was set and they went back to jail, without requesting one.

The home of Carlotta Walls, 16, was bombed the night of Feb. 9. She is one of eight Negroes who now attend once-white high schools here.

The bombing was believed to be the first directed at the home of an integrated Negro student in the South since the U.S. Supreme Court ordered desegregation of schools in 1954.

The arrest of Binns and Monts was announced jointly by police and the FBI who offered no motive.

The Little Rock School Board office, the business office of Mayor Werner Knopp and a city-owned station wagon were dynamited Labor Day.

No one was injured in any of the bombings.

Carlotta, her mother and two young sisters, were in the six-room brick house when the bombings occurred. The father, Carlisle Walls, 37, a brickmason, was visiting his father up the street when the blast occurred.

Carlotta was the youngest of nine Negroes who integrated Central High under guard of federal troops in the fall of 1957. She is one of five Negroes now attending Central. Three Negroes attend Hall High.

Binns and Monts were arrested Thursday afternoon. They were questioned throughout most of the night before the arrests were announced early today.

Execution Stay Granted by Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four Miller County Negroes lost a round in federal court yesterday but the litigation stayed off their executions, at least temporarily.

District Judge J. Smith Henley refused to set aside convictions of Rogers Boone, 26; James Moore, 22; James Boyd, 26, and Willie Byrd, 22.

But Gov. Orval E. Faubus rescinded the execution date for Boyd and Byrd to March 4. They had been scheduled to die at dawn today. Faubus rescheduled the death date for Moore and Boone for next Friday. They were scheduled to die last week, but obtained a stay while the action was pending in Henley's court.

Further delays could be obtained for all 4 if Henley's ruling is appealed. Any appeal would be filed with the U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Harold Flowers, Pine Bluff Negro attorney who represents the men, could not be reached for comment on his plans.

Flowers asked Henley to set aside convictions of his clients on grounds that police officers obtained confessions from them illegally. Henley held a day-long hearing on the matter Wednesday.

The four were convicted in the May, 1956, robbery-slaying of M. H. Hamm, 76, a Texarkana white man.

U.S. Makes Apology to Fidel Castro

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today officially admitted a U.S.-based plane flew over a raid over Cuba, it apologized to the Fidel Castro regime.

The State Department said the top-ranking U.S. diplomat in Havana, Charge d'Affaires Danie Braddock, has been instructed "to express to the Cuban government this government's sincere regrets that the plane managed to escape the vigilance of our intensified aerial patrols."

U.S. officials have been roundly denouncing and denying similar previous accusations by the Cubans, a situation which made confirmation of Castro's new charge doubly embarrassing.

The information now reaching the department is that the small plane which crashed in Cuba Thursday had left Tamiami Air field not far from Miami, flew to another still-identified field and loaded up with bombing material before proceeding on to Cuba.

South, East Lashed by Snow, Winds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winds up to hurricane force and smothering snow paralyzed sections of the East today.

Thousands of motorists were stuck in drifts which closed 175 miles of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. A plane plummeted down on a Patterson, N.J., front lawn with the thick snow, killing two occupants.

Telephone and power lines were snapped, cutting communications and electricity in more than 100,000 New Jersey homes.

At Long Branch, N.J., wind gusts varied from 78 to 94 m.p.h. New snow strata reached 26 inches west of Cumberland, Md.

It fell 18 inches deep in the upper Catskills of New York State and at Somerset, Pa., where hundreds of motorists jammed turnpike restaurant-service buildings.

3 Men Die in Plane Crash Near School

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three men were killed today when a private airplane crashed just east of here, 50 feet from a school where hundreds of children were attending classes.

The victims were not immediately identified.

The two-engine plane, apparently in trouble, narrowly missed St. Gertrude's Catholic School in Middletown, where 650 children were in class.

There was only one house in the immediate vicinity and it was not touched by the plane or debris.

Walter Chapman, who lives nearby, said the plane, coming from the east, plunged into a gully at full power. It caught fire.

Firemen, doctors, ambulance workers and policemen were unable to identify the type of plane. It was described as large enough to carry four to six passengers.

James McCullough, a Cincinnati policeman, said wreckage was scattered over a quarter mile area.

Army Sgt. Marcus D. Ellis, 22, son of Mrs. Dorothy Howard of Hope, participated in Exercise Winter Shield at the Gravenhorst-Hofenfeld training area in southern Germany Feb. 1-7. 60,000 troops were involved.

Sgt. Ellis arrived in the Army in 1955 and entered overseas on this tour of duty in January, 1959.

The sergeant, whose father, Lawson Ellis, lives at Fulton, attended Texas High School and was a farmer before entering the army.

His wife, Barbara, is with him in Germany.

Cherry said he would accept the appointment, adding, "I'm now now working on a case that I don't want to leave."

Cherry, a Democrat, served as governor in 1952-53. Gov. Orval E. Faubus defeated his second term bid.

Ethan Frome Was Exciting Production

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP-TV Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Edith Wharton's New England tragedy "Ethan Frome" was given an exciting production Thursday night by CBS' Show of the Month.

"That it was exciting was due to skillful performances by Julie Harris and Sterling Hayden, playing the unhappy lovers.

The David Susskind adaptation of the book started somberly. But although characters moved inexorably toward disaster, the pace began to quicken. When the climactic scene was reached—the lovers clashing to their mutual destruction—it seemed too drastic and somehow an artificial solution.

But it was still an interesting and rewarding 90 minutes.

It was a big night for snow-covered hills on CBS. Before Ethan Frome and his light-of-love took their trip downhill, the network took us to Squaw Valley, Calif., for the opening of the Winter Olympics.

There, a covey of skiers swooped down a slope carrying the Olympic torch. Vice President Richard M. Nixon formally opened the 11-day competition, honoring were released, and bands played. Pigeons and gas-filled balloons. And it was all rather dull viewing for us stay-at-homes.

Things, however, are expected to pick up Saturday when we'll see some of the competitive events.

Teresa Wright, who quite accidentally has picked up a professional specialty of portraying real people in movies and television, will play Julia, wife of President U. S. Grant, in Sunday's American Heritage drama "Shadow of a Soldier" (NBC, 8-9 p.m.).

Over the years Miss Wright has played Mrs. Lou Gehrig, columnist Louella Parsons, Anne Sullivan Macy, Bridie Murphy and Margaret Bourke-White.

"Some of them involved more preparation than others," says the actress. "Where the person was not well-known to the public, I merely had to follow the script. That is true of Mrs. Grant. Mrs. Gehrig and Bridie Murphy (which the public never saw because the movie was not released).

Asks Rehearing of Affidavit Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court has been asked to reconsider its ruling that Arkansas' teacher affidavit act is constitutional.

The court upheld the law Feb. 8 but warned that discriminatory application could render it invalid. The act, Act 10 of 1958, requires teachers to list organizations to which they have belonged or contributed during the past five years.

A suit attacking the law was filed by Max Carr, a University of Arkansas music teacher, and E. T. Gephart, a Little Rock high school printing instructor.

19 Can Ask for Change of Venue

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Nineteen persons charged in connection with anti-integration demonstrations at Central High last summer now have until March 21 to appeal an order denying them a change of venue.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby granted the extension of time yesterday. The defendants plan to appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court a Kirby ruling that Municipal Judge Quinn Glover was justified in denying a venue change motion.

Charged in municipal court with assorted misdemeanors, mostly disturbing the peace, the 19 were arrested near Central when police broke up a segregationist march on Aug. 12. Central reopened under a token plan of integration that day.

Suggests $40 Million Bond for Colleges

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The president of Southern State College suggested yesterday that the state should sell 40 million dollars worth of bonds to finance new construction at all state-supported colleges.

Dr. Imon Bruce, school superintendent at Hot Springs before he was named head of Southern State last year, made the proposal before the Arkansas Legislative Council's education committee.

Bruce said he spoke for all state colleges.

Such a bond issue would have to be approved by voters.

Dr. Carl Reng, president of Arkansas State College, told the committee that colleges could issue revenue bonds to build dormitories, retiring the bonds with rentals from a classroom or a laboratory.

Henderson's president, Dr. D. D. McBrien, told the committee that college heads do not feel a single board to administer the school is needed.

McBrien said the presidents and board members had formed a voluntary co-ordinating agency which made a joint board unnecessary. The committee took the matters under advisement.

THE LADY AND THE GIANT

By Clarence Budington Kelland

CHAPTER XXXV

I could not keep secret from my voice. "You deserve to lose your money," I said. "You were trusted by your depositors and you betrayed their trust. Guiltily! Shamefully! Guiltily! What precautions did you take? What investigations did you make? You let this woman beguile and bamboozle you. None of you — and you call yourselves bankers — so much as opened an envelope to see what it contained. But your money is safe. All but what Madam has spent in her career in Syracuse. Nearly a million dollars."

"Where is it? Where is it?" begged Watts.

"It's where Lottie Fox and I put it for safekeeping. It will be placed in the hands of proper authority. Let us proceed with order and decorum," I said, and stared down Banker Watts. "Not hysterically. Let Madam Janeway be taken into custody — and myself if that be deemed necessary because of my killing of the man Oscar. Then call in the attorney general, for this matter ramifies through the state. There must be strict investigation and equitable division and restitution of this million dollars."

In the end, hopeless and begging for clemency, Madam made full confession. She had been born in Connecticut and at the age of 16 had run away from home. Even so young she exerted an amazing charm upon men. She married a doctor and disappeared with his bank account; she passed forged checks and served two terms in prison.

Another series of frauds made her take refuge with a patent medicine show, where she allowed herself to stand before a plank while Oscar threw knives at her. She and Oscar planned the Dan's Drev fraud, selecting Syracuse as remote from New York and a town of promising character.

Oscar demanded that she marry him, and from that date her life became a ghastly experience. He was a dangerous, deadly criminal. He had strangled the Duke because that man had tracked him down and was demanding a share of the lot. He had throttled Gideon Weeks, a brother of Madam's, for the same reason.

Madam was brought to trial and, though she produced a vigorous and clever defense, was convicted and sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary.

I was given great credit for saving several banks from ruin — much more than I deserved. But as Lottie said, it was silly to refuse gifts of the gods. Banker Watts, discredited in the city for his guile and carelessness, found it necessary to dispose of his bank holdings.

Oddly enough, these tragic melodramatic and sometimes humorous events did not bring to an end my connection with George Hull, cigar manufacturer of Binghamton, and the much-disputed Cardiff Giant.

Circumstantial and eyewitness evidence was adduced until it seemed that the story of the hoax would soon be entirely exposed.

One morning George Hull, the cigar manufacturer, came to my office and occupied the client's chair.

"Mr. Applegate," he said, "I'm kind of, sort of, after a fashion, worried about how I stand."

"With respect to what?"

"The giant," he said. "Too much is being unearthed. It won't be long now before the papers publish all about it. What I come to consult you about, Mr. Applegate, is how I stand legal."

"Did you ever say orally or in print that the effigy was once a living man? That it was a petrified giant, that once had was flesh and blood?"

"Not once," he answered, and grinned. "I just left fools to draw their own conclusions. I didn't have to make a statement. All I had to do was stand by and let them make fools of themselves."

"Would you care to tell me the whole truth about it?" I asked.

"Wa-al," he said, "it all came about kind of by chance. I was visitin' my sister out in Iowa and there was one of them shoutin' evangelists preachin' He belted out that there was giants in them days."

"I got to mulling it over and it come to me I could have my fun and mebbe make some money. So I swopped a keg of beer to a fellow for a big block of gypsum. I got a graveyard sculptor in Chi-

Chessman Gets Stay of Execution

By PAUL K. LEE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman, condemned to death 12 years ago as a perverted sex kidnaper, won his eighth reprieve from the San Quentin gas chamber early today after an appeal from the U.S. Department of State.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, acting against all odds and in the face of a California Supreme Court recommendation opposing clemency, ordered a 60-day stay less than 10 hours before Chessman was scheduled to die.

The governor said he ordered the stay because of a State Department telegram warning that execution of Chessman might lead to hostile demonstrations in Uruguay and Brazil against President Eisenhower during the President's forthcoming visit to South America.

He whittled out the giant to my specifications, and made it look real by peckin' tiny holes all over it, like the pores in a man's skin."

"Thorough," I observed.

"The tough job was luggin' it to Stubby's farm," he said. "It busted wagons 'n' it caved 'n' bridges. But I got it there and buried it 'n' left it to ripen for a year. Then Stubby dug it up."

"Mr. Hull," I said, "I can inform you that you are guilty of nothing criminal. You made no guarantees. You only let the public draw their own conclusions."

"Which," he said, "they done. Human beings is just eager to get gouged, and willing to fight and bleed for any doggone fool idea, whether it's religion or politics or the layin' on of hands to cure disease. Yup, the'st just one quality all created human beings share. And that, Mr. Applegate, is guillibility."

"So," I was forced to agree, "it would seem. And what are your plans now, Mr. Hull?"

"I figger, since I ain't liable to no pain or penalties to tell the whole story to the papers."

And that is what George Hull proceeded to do. And, weirdly enough, the result of it was to increase the size of the crowds who thronged to see the giant.

(To Be Concluded)

ca. The governor, an avowed foe of capital punishment, also said he would make a special call to the state Legislature, which reconvenes Feb. 29, to consider abolition of the death penalty.

Chessman, the most notorious American prisoner of modern times, had excited worldwide attention by his long struggle to escape death through legal technicalities.

With little knowledge of the basic evidence, hundreds of thousands of persons in scores of countries had demonstrated and petitioned that Chessman be spared.

Ironically, the State Department telegram which saved him was almost lost in the thousands of telegrams pouring into the governor's office, urging clemency.

Cecil Poole, the governor's clemency secretary, happened to open it, and the stay was ordered shortly after midnight.

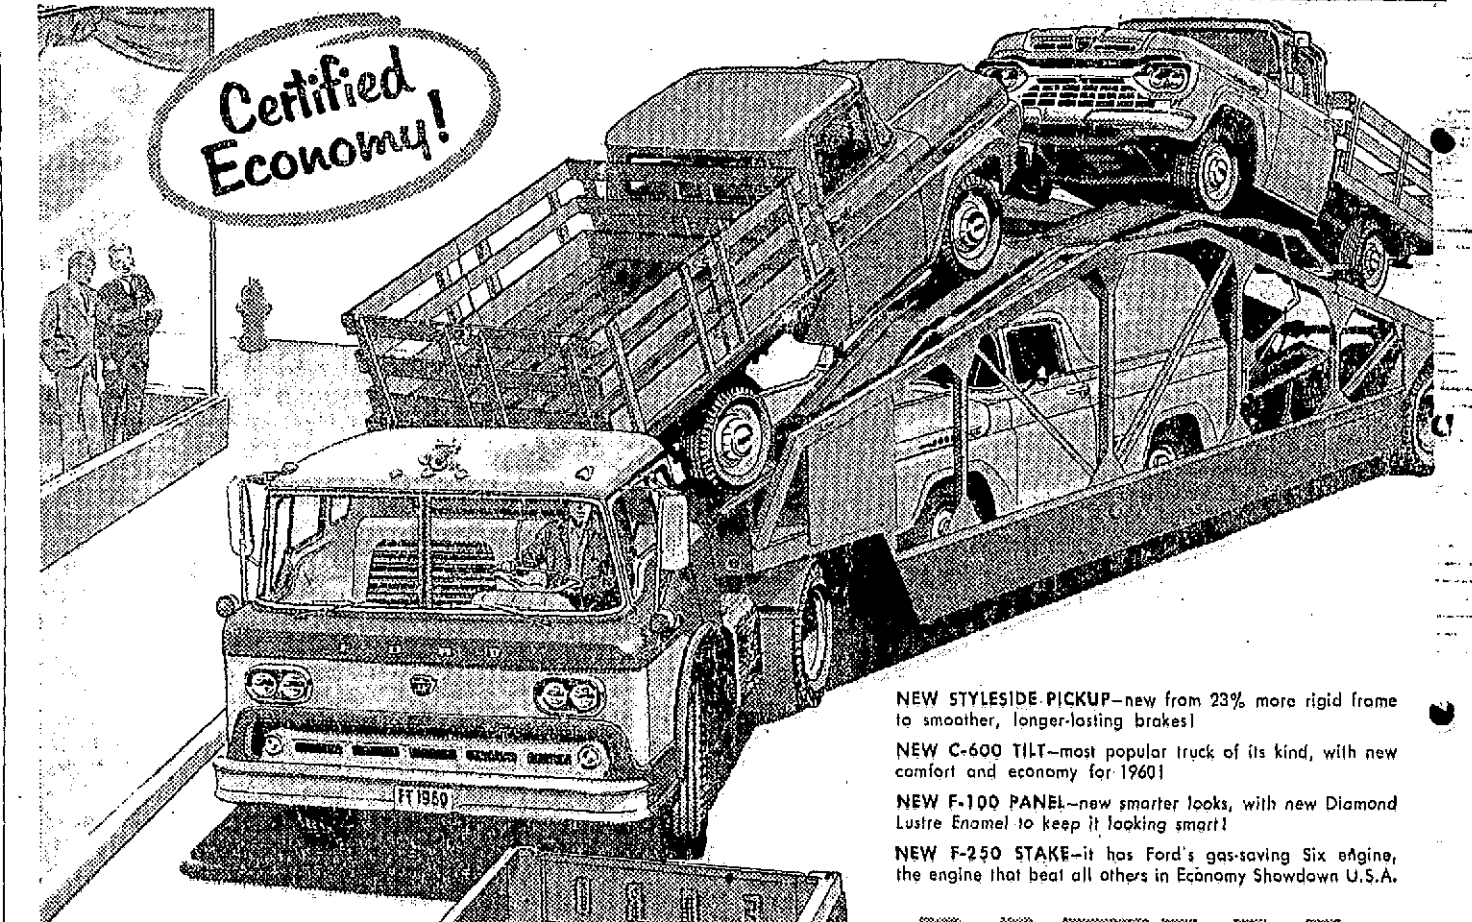

Chessman, scheduled to enter the gas chamber at 10 a.m., Pacific Standard Time, was whisked out of the "waiting room" cell next to the green-painted gas chamber and returned to the death-row cell on San Quentin's sixth floor—the cell which has been his home since July 3, 1946.

Bodies of 5 Airmen Are Recovered

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—A U. S. military team today tentatively identified the bodies of five crew members of the World War II ghost bomber Lady Be Good, found deep in the North African desert.

A diary found near the remains indicated the men had died after a trek of 85 miles and at least eight days in the sun-scorched Libyan wastes after bailing out of the four-engine bomber.

The latest report on one of the war's major mysteries was relayed to the U. S. Air Force's European headquarters here from Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya.

The Air Force gave these tentative identifications of the five bodies:

- 1st Lt. William J. Hatton, pilot, Whitestone, Queens, New York City.
- 2nd Lt. Robert F. Toner, copilot, brother of Mrs. Gertrude O. Emerson, North Attleboro, Mass.
- 2nd Lt. D. P. Hayes, navigator, Lee's Summit, Mo.
- T.Sgt. Robert E. Darnotte, crew member, Lake Linden, Mich.
- S.Sgt. Samuel R. Adams, crew member, Eureka, Ill.

The Liberator carried a crew of nine who bailed out over the desert on their return from a bombing raid on Naples, Italy, April 4, 1943.

El Dorado Fire Gutts Warehouse

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—A flash fire caused several thousand dollars worth of damage to a Johnson Oil Co. warehouse today.

No one was injured in the two-hour fire which destroyed one section of the sprawling, one-story building.

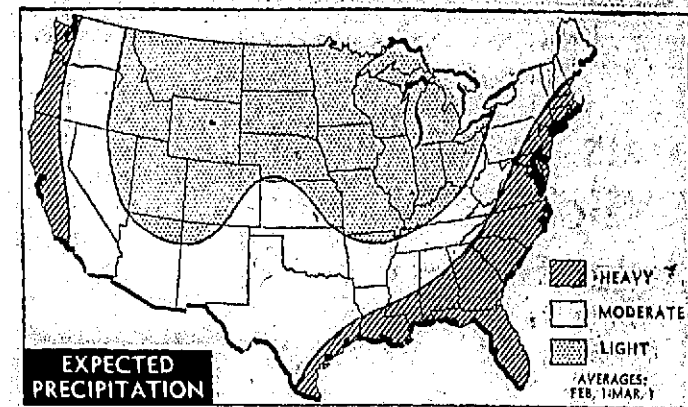

The fire erupted while workmen were cleaning a concrete floor with kerosene. Officials said the kerosene fumes apparently were ignited in some way.

Five men were in the building at the time. Reed Johnson, owner of the building, could not make an exact estimate of loss immediately.

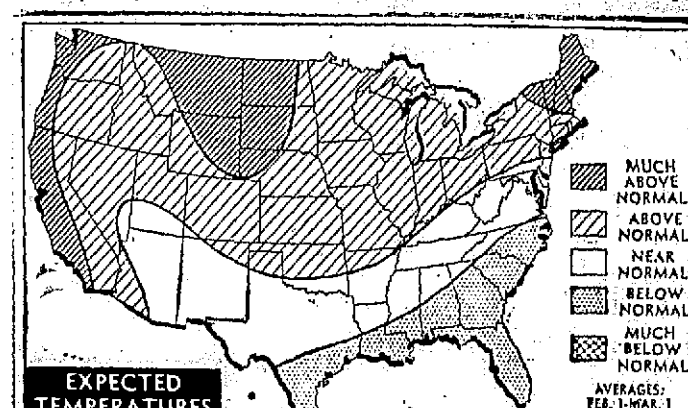

The cor anglais, or English horn, is not really a horn. It is a woodwind.

DRIVE-IN DAMAGED — IRA L. HUNT examines damage to his drive-in cafe north of Houston, Tex., that was wrecked by a series of squalls and tornadoes that swept through the area. Four persons were hurt, and a farm house and buildings were destroyed by perhaps four tornadoes that struck the Katy-Richmond area about 30 miles west of Houston. — NEA Telephoto

Precipitation is expected to exceed normal along the nation's coasts, vary from light to moderate for rest of the country.

Temperatures in February will average above seasonal normals in northern half of nation, normal or below in other sections.

DOROTHY DIX

Past Benefits Forgot She Would Walk Out

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Eight years ago my husband died leaving me with four small children and little property. We had a wealthy neighbor. He took over all of us. We loved him like a husband and father. He has seen that we wanted for nothing but he has also seen that his invalid wife came first and always will.

As he has no children he has made my future secure. My children love him like a father. I depended on him for love and affection, too. Now I am independent, I don't look forward to seeing him but I would like to keep him for a friend. I know I have done him wrong, but now as I can afford it, I like the bright lights. — Undecided

Dear Undecided: You have done wrong and some day, some how, you'll pay for it unless you square yourself with your conscience. Give the poor fellow back his money. To use it for a joyride into the bright lights is shoddy in gratitude. Think of your children instead of yourself. Wipe the slate clean of self-respect, clean. Pay your own way, if you have to scrub floors.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

a tourist business. In one summer month I work at my own fire-works stand and make between $500 and $600. Every morning I clean nine cabins and motel units. I get nothing for this. I don't get a cent for allowance. Why should I work when my father doesn't? — S. A. T.

Dear S. A. T.: Perhaps your parents consider the cabin-cleaning repayment for their investment in you. How about room and board — do you get that for free? Treat this problem as a business transaction. Try billing your parents for labor at the current wage scale. In turn, pay them whatever the rate is for room and board.

Legal Notice

Notice is hereby given of the Annual Meeting of Board of Directors and Membership of the Hempstead County United Fund, to be held on Tuesday Evening February 23rd at 7:30 in the Community Room of the First National Bank in Hope, Arkansas.

Since this is the Annual Meeting, all Board Members and Contributing members are urged to be present.

W. R. Caldwell, President

Feb. 17, 19, 22, 1960

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I was married three months when my husband was sent overseas. I waited the birth of our son. After his tour, we were very happy. I felt I had that one-in-a-million husband. Our second son came and we were together two and a half years, then my husband got sent to France.

I watched this wonderful man become a bum. We had two more children. I found evidence of adultery. I went to his commanding officer, friends, and the priest for help, but he never stopped. I gave up completely and from June to September, when we left France he lived with us like a boarder.

Now I live with a single brother. My husband is in Texas. He helps financially and I am content. This week he called and asked to have us back — he says we are his life. I think of our happy moments together, then I think of our three years in France, and it tears my heart out. I asked him to come here on his next leave. Should I try again or stay here and leave well enough alone? He has been writing faithfully every day and I've been doing the same.

— Unhappy Wife

Dear Unhappy Wife: If you had only yourself to consider, I would say: Leave well enough alone. But with four children to rear, it's worth another try. They need a father, you need a husband to help train them. They are his responsibility as well as yours. Talk turkey when he comes home.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm going on 16. My parents own

Racial Study Protested by Legion

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state commander of the American Legion protested today against a forthcoming visit by a team from the American Veterans Committee to study race relations at Little Rock Air Force Base.

Hayes Stephens of McGhee said Arkansas Legionnaires "are bitterly opposed to this study."

He said his group felt such a visit would be unwarranted and unprecedented.

Stephens said a telegram of protest on behalf of the Arkansas Legion, which has more than 25,000 members, would be sent to the Secretary of Defense.

Headquarters of the AVC in Washington announced earlier this week that the organization's national chairman and vice chairman would check the racial situation at the Little Rock base March 4-6.

Other tours of Southern military installations are planned.

The headquarters also said that if time permitted, Chairman Mickey Levine and Vice Chairman Louis Warshaw, both of New York, would check on off-base acceptance of Negroes in churches, restaurants and other places.

The proposed visit also has drawn fire from Atty. Gen. Bragg Bondell.

"I assume if they do come they will be provided quarters on the base," Bennett said today. "In the event they are not, I am going to urge local authorities to invoke any criminal statutes that may be available."

"Under any circumstances, if they are not quartered on the base, I am sure they will be under strict surveillance while they are in Arkansas. In summary, we just don't need these trouble-makers down here."

second to sweep the Southland and the East in a week, churned heavy seas off the Atlantic Coast.

The Coast Guard reported a fishing vessel ran ashore in blinding snow on Ram Island, ledge off the harbor mouth in Portland, Maine.

Blinding rain lashed Boston, but inland New England caught a heavy wet snow fling on gale force winds. Thousands of workers failed to reach their jobs this morning.

The stormy weather, erupting in the Southland, swept northward in the East, following the pattern of the blockbuster which ripped across the eastern quarter of the nation last weekend.

Snow piled up more than a foot high in Kentucky and Tennessee and Virginia.

Tornadoes skipped across sections of Louisiana, Florida and North Carolina. Winds up to 60 m.p.h. pounded western Virginia piling huge drifts of heavy, wet snow.

Gale-force winds battered the Gulf States and veered northward. Gale warnings were displayed along the Atlantic Coast from Daytona Beach, Fla., to Eastport, Maine.

Sections of Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia were virtually paralyzed by the heavy snow.

The snow belt stretched from northern Alabama across much of the South. Moderate to heavy snow fell from eastern Tennessee and Kentucky northeastward over inland areas of the Northeast.

Property damage throughout the storm belt was extensive. Hundreds of autos and trucks were mired.

Schools were closed in many states, including North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio and West Virginia.

Power and communication service was disrupted. At least three communities in eastern North Carolina were without power services. Tornadoes which hit Charlotte snapped utility poles and caused thousands of dollars' damage to parked autos.

The Weather Bureau posted warnings for moderate to heavy snow and hazardous driving conditions from southwest Virginia and eastern Kentucky northward through West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and New York state into Connecticut. Snow was in prospect for New England.

Heavy rain pelted coastal areas from Boston to Philadelphia.

Strong winds, with a mixture of snow and rain, lashed the New York City area.

Wind gusts were clocked at 60 m.p.h. in a heavy rainstorm in Washington, D.C. Trees and power lines were toppled.

Hit Breaking Point

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Edward M. Ashby, a mailman, had been bitten by dogs five times in five years.

A big boxer came at him Thursday, barking.

Ashby went home, got a 22 rifle and killed the dog.

"I just reached the breaking point," he said.

The dog's owner, Ruby Goehner, says she'll press charges against Ashby.

Bible Comment
THE CHRISTIAN LAYMAN
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
Sometimes he is outwardly and distinctly Christian, his life a direct expression of his faith in Christ as Savior, Teacher and example—like my friend, who recently visited all the schools and colleges for Negroes, that for more than a century this denomination (Congregational) has sponsored in the U.S. South.
Sometimes he represents much of the Christian realities, so far as the teaching of Jesus is concerned, without bearing the Christian name. He may be a Jew, perhaps a Mohammedan, possibly of no religious designation at all. But if his chief concern is for truth and right, for love of his fellowmen, he possesses the nonprofessional religion that the world needs above all else.
A great need of our times is that men and women of good will and vision should attain a common strength in combating evil in all its forms and all the divisive things that those of ill will find to quarrel about.
I recently referred to the extent to which bureaucracy in religion, with its emphasis upon authority, has been paralleling bureaucracy in government.
In the realm of government I think hope for the future lies in those who believe in government "of the people, by the people, and for the people," and who are determined that bureaucracy may never be allowed to subvert the principle of democracy as Lincoln defined it.
Similarly, I think that in the sphere of religion the great principle that must not be subverted is freedom—the freedom of unofficial individuals and groups to follow the dictates of reason and conscience in religious expression and action.
Churchmen of the bureaucratic type may fail to realize the extent to which "official" religion is losing out to an awakening increase of an unofficial prophetic voice and action. One of its aspects is in a dedicated journalism.
To me a prophetic voice was heard recently in a column by James Reston, Washington correspondent for the New York Times. He commented on a plea by Secretary of state Horner for "subordinating our private interests to the paramount public interest," using our economy less for the things which do not really matter and more for the things which do.
Reston thinks the American character has not been debased, that it will respond to an effective appeal, but with Biblical Amos-like incisiveness he assails the present situation:
"The dominant sound in American ears today is the endless babble of commercial advertising, interlarded with Elvis Presley and the singing commercials. Night and day this incessant tribal beat goes on and the hawlers train and inform our minds in you know what.
"So long as this is the dominant voice of America, the quiet, courteous and sensible words of the secretary of state will be overwhelmed. Is this inevitable? Is there no way for the highest common denominator to be heard above the din?"

Workers Average $1.520 Per Hour
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The University of Arkansas reported today that manufacturing production workers in February, 1959, carried an average of $1.52 an hour.
This was considerably under the national average of $2.20 an hour. Wages in Arkansas increased 6 cents an hour above those of 1958. Nationally the increase was 27 cents during the same period.
The figures were contained in a report from the university's Industrial Research and Extension Center on a wage survey which the center said covered firms employing 60 per cent of all manufacturing workers in the state.
The center said the method used made the averages comparable to those published by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.
The survey indicated that six per cent of employment in the state shifted into "medium-wage industries" between 1956 and 1959.

Thwarts Bandits
NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Bank officials in nearby Bessmer apparently have the answer to thwarting bandits.
Three gunmen entered the Bessmer branch of the Peoples Bank of Lawrence County Tuesday but fled empty-handed when a teller Ann Rocco stood behind the bullet-proof glass in her cage and did nothing.
The nervous gunmen stood in the bank for a few minutes, then ran out the door to an auto.
Three other tellers stood behind bullet-proof cages and watched the gunmen while another employee phoned police.
is losing out to an awakening increase of an unofficial prophetic voice and action. One of its aspects is in a dedicated journalism.
To me a prophetic voice was heard recently in a column by James Reston, Washington correspondent for the New York Times. ## Bradley Takes on Cincinnati for MVC Title

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The time-tips are over for those blistering Bradley Braves. Now it's back to that duel with the Cincinnati Bearcats that'll decide the Missouri Valley Conference title, places in the NCAA and National Invitation Tournament fields and maybe the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press' national college basketball poll.

The Braves wound up their non-conference activity for the regular season Thursday night, losing to Oklahoma City 82-69 for their 14th straight victory and 20th in 21 games. Their five remaining games all are MVC challenges, beginning at North Texas State Saturday.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally all season, has much the same program remaining—except that the Bearcats are through with St. Louis.

New York University, an at-large selection for the NCAA tournament, snapped Holy Cross' 11-game win streak 74-60. St. Louis (15-6) improved its NIT chances with a 6-0 road victory over Wichita, and NCAA-bound Miami (Fla.) rolled to a 21-3 record, 121-95 over Florida Southern.

Maryland, hitting 18 of 19 second half foul shots, nailed third place in the Atlantic Coast Conference 71-61 over Duke, and Utah kept on Utah State's heels in the Sky-line race, beating Denver 102-77.

NYU, now 14-3, walloped Holy Cross (16-3) in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader after Selon Hall had kept its slim tourney hopes alive by taking the opener from Niagara 75-61.

Student to Walk to Kansas City

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Charles Murff dashed from the campus of Ouachita Baptist College today on the first leg of a 502-mile run to Kansas City.

Murff, a 22-year-old Ouachita senior, hopes to watch the Ouachita basketball team compete in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

The rangy Louisianan figures it will take about 15 days to reach his goal. He will make overnight stops, with the first one at Glenwood—35 miles down the road.

A crowd of 500 students and teachers cheered Murff when he started on his run at 7:50 a.m. He wore a sweat suit in the 25-degree weather.

An automobile loaded with fraternity brothers will escort him to Kansas City.

Ouachita is seeded no better than third in a district NAIA tournament at Pine Bluff Feb. 27. March 1, Murff may be disappointed when he gets to Kansas City.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murff of Princeton, La.

This is Murff's second distance gallop to publicize his school. Last November he ran 82 miles from Arkadelphia to Magnolia.

Burdette, Braves Near Agreement

MILWAUKEE (AP) — General Manager John McHale of the Milwaukee Braves says he and star pitcher Lew Burdette aren't as far apart on their contract talks as some people imagine.

"I'm not worried at all," McHale said in his arrival Wednesday.

Nevertheless, Burdette started the way-far-apart talk Wednesday when he told Joe Reichley of The Associated Press that he'll either get a healthy salary boost from the Braves or he'll sign only when Milwaukee Stadium freezes over.

Burdette claimed he was offered a 22 per cent cut from his 1959 salary, which he said was around $36,000. This McHale said just wasn't so.

"He was inaccurate as to the figures," McHale said, hinting broadly that Lew's salary for last year should be considered in the $30,000 range. He wouldn't comment on the 22 per cent reduction figure and he wouldn't elaborate.

McHale said he is aware that Burdette in past years has had a reputation as a man who drives a hard bargain but that he has always signed.

"I'll talk with Burdette and I think we'll reach an agreement," McHale added.

Umpires to Meet
BOSTON (AP) — The full American League staff of 18 umpires will meet with President Joe Cronin March 7-8 at Orlando, Fla. Cronin announced Wednesday it is a regular annual meeting of the baseball staff and that only rough line matters are on the agenda.

Hope Star SPORTS

Hope Takes on Bucks, Magnolia This Week

Hope's Sr. and Jr. boys face two formidable foes in AAA Conference play this weekend.

Friday night finds the cats going to Snackover for a match with the Smackover Buckaroos who hold down the No. 2 spot in the conference standings. In a previous match with Smackover this season the Cats pulled the game out of the fire in an overtime affair which Hope took by a one point margin, 65-64.

Saturday night Magnolia comes to Hope to play a two game stand. Earlier this season the strong Panther team dealt the Bobcats their second conference loss by a score of 47-45.

These two conference battles are very crucial in the Cats' attempt to qualify for the four team tourney which decides the three representatives to the state tourney from this conference. Currently the Bobcats are holding down third place in the conference standing with five wins and four losses in the season's conference play.

Hope's Jr. Boys have already clinched first place in the conference and have a berth in the Junior State Tournament to be held in Newport. The Bobkittens take on their first opponent Thursday, Feb. 25 at 2 p.m.

Nixons Will Leave Site of Olympics

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A pair of amateur skiers named Dick and at Nixon today leave winter sports to the tautly trained athletes of the Olympic Games.

The vice president and his wife take off for a California political tour after a rousing welcome by the athletes at this picturesque Sierra Valley site of the VIII Winter Olympics.

While touring Olympic Village Thursday, the Nixons admitted they skied on weekends in Southern California in the 1930s. But the vice president said:

"We weren't very good."

The Nixons were mobbed when they toured the dormitory village of the 800 athletes after formally opening the games.

A crowd of perhaps 200 tramped through the snow with the Nixons as they inspected the dormitories and the recreation centers.

Nixon passed out fountain pens labeled "Richard Nixon," signed autographs and traded Olympic pins with the athletes.

Lydia Skoblikova, blonde and dimpled Russian speed skater, pinned the Russian team emblem on Nixon's overcoat lapel. He gave her an Olympic pin in exchange and wished her luck in the competition.

Russian hockey player Yuri Tsi-tsonov gave Nixon a pin symbolizing the Soviet's first Sputnik launching last year and the vice president wished the Russian star good luck.

Broyles Gets Sports Award in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — University of Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles picked up his second award in two nights here last night.

Broyles, who guided the Razorback football team to a 9-2 record last season, received a plaque as a Southwest Conference co-champion and a Gator Bowl victory Southwest Coach of the Year.

"A Georgia boy from Arkansas getting a Texas award should be considered an upset," quipped Broyles as he accepted the award as "a great honor."

Wednesday night Broyles received the Little Rock Sertoma Club's 1959 Service to Mankind award at Little Rock.

Last night's honor was voted by the Texas Sportswriters Assn.

Lamar Hunt, the Dallas millionaire who helped found the American Football League, was honored as southwesterner of the year and Eddie Southern, Texas University sprinter, received a plaque as amateur athlete of the year.

Oaklawn to Start Racing Season Sat.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The field for Oaklawn Park's 1960 Inaugural Handicap should clear up today.

A record 33 horses have been nominated for the $10,000 feature of Oaklawn's nine-race opening program tomorrow.

Mrs. John Zitzik's Manassas, who will be retired after this season, was assigned top weight of 122 pounds by Allan W. Lavin, racing secretary. Manassas has won $250,000 in the past five years.

Purse for the Inaugural has been increased from $5,000 to $10,000 in line with a general purse increase. Oaklawn this year will distribute $740,500 in 31 days of racing, an increase of $104,500 over last year.

Opening day purses will total $30,700, a record.

Only 12 horses can start any one race at Oaklawn.

The Inaugural is run over 5 1/2 furlongs.

Ashamed Disc Jockey Got $9,955 Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A disc jockey who accepted $9,955 from record companies over a 3 year period says he quit because "I was ashamed of myself. I was ashamed of the industry."

The story told by Norman Prescott of Boston was released by the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight which continues behind closed doors today its hearings on payola.

The subcommittee arranged to hear from Don Masters, disc jockey and record librarian at Boston station WJLL. There was no explanation of why he would be heard in secret.

Two other witnesses were heard behind closed doors Wednesday because of health reasons. They were Harry Carter, president and treasurer of Music Suppliers, Inc., a Boston record distributing firm and Samuel H. Clark, former owner of music suppliers and now president of Am-Far Corp., a subsidiary of American Broadcasting Co.-Paramount Theatres, Inc., of New York.

Both Music Suppliers and Am-Far have been cited in payola complaints filed by the Federal Trade Commission.

The subcommittee released Wednesday testimony given Feb. 8 by Prescott, who said he walked out last July from his job as disc jockey on Boston station WBZ. That was before congressional hearings focused public attention on payola practices.

Among other things, Prescott said four Boston record distributors, including Carter's Music Suppliers, sent him payments over a three-year period beginning in 1957.

The four firms and the amounts were listed as:

Music Suppliers, $5,515 including $2,255 in payments on a new car.

Diamond Record Distributors, $3,690. Mutual Distributors, Inc., $200, and Records, Inc., $550.

ISN'T HE EVER GOING TO STOP?

Harney Goes Into Lead at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Putting was the key to the $20,000 Tucson Open as it moved into today's second round.

Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., putted "wonderfully well" Thursday for a 6-under-par 34-30-64 for the 6,418-yard, par 70 El Rio course. It was a 20-foot putt that dropped for an eagle three on the 510-yard 18th that gave him a one-stroke lead.

The pack of seven just behind the ex-Holy Cross star all credited putting for their 65s.

Arnold Palmer, Ligonier, Pa., bogeyed three holes before his putter shoved him back into contention with a 6-under-par 29 for the last nine and a 65.

The putter also was king with Gene Littler, the defending champ from Singing Hills, Calif., with 34-31; Charles Sifford, Los Angeles, possibly the greatest Negro player in the world, 31-34; rookie Mason Rudolph, Clarksburg, Tenn., 34-31; Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla., 33-32; Dave Marr, Cedarhurst, Long Island, 34-31; and Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N. Y.

Lipscomb Must Pay Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Lipscomb, defensive lineman of the pro football champion Baltimore Colts, must pay $900 in back alimony by June 1.

The Superior Court commission warned him Wednesday he must catch up on his alimony payments to Mrs. Ophelia Lipscomb. She contended he owed her $1,875 under her 1955 divorce decree.

She said he had been sending her $75 a month support for two minor children, but none for her.

Lipscomb, 28, formerly played with the Los Angeles Rams.

Doing a Good Turn Can Take Bad Turn

MILFORD, Ohio (AP) — Doing a good turn can take a bad turn. W. B. Goodman learned.

Goodman, turning onto a street here Wednesday, saw a car apparently stalled. The driver was making motions which Goodman interpreted as meaning he wanted a push.

So Goodman eased his car into position and started pushing. The frantic signaling continued and Goodman thought that meant "go fast." He speeded up.

Finally a stop signal caused a halt.

The motorist being pushed rushed back and among the unprintable words he uttered, Goodman learned the man didn't want to be pushed—he was trying to flag Goodman past so he could back into a parking space.

Plates Cost 12.8 Cents

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Custom-made Products Corp., of Jacksonville has again submitted a low bid of 12.8 cents per plate on a contract to furnish Arkansas 800, 800 vehicle license tags for 1961.

Total cost will be $110,554.40. Custom made got the job last year on a bid of $105,777 for 821,704 plates.

A three-year period beginning in 1957.

The four firms and the amounts were listed as:

Music Suppliers, $5,515 including $2,255 in payments on a new car.

Stitch's Bad Eye Didn't Bother Him

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If the cataract in Rudolf Stich's left eye bothers him, the classy No. 2 welterweight contender had Charlie (Tomstone) Smith and 2,500 boxing fans badly fooled.

Stitch jarred Smith several times before taking a third-round (technical) knockout at Freedom Hall Wednesday night.

Smith was never knocked down but cut inside his mouth kept the 146-pound Los Angeles veteran from coming out for the fourth round.

Stitch, from Louisville, weighed 147 1/2.

Wonder Boys All But Out of Running

ARKANSAS TECH puts its Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball hopes on the line tonight against the team which all but knocked the Wonder Boys out of the running a month ago.

Tech, now in second place with a 12-4 record, is host to Arkansas College in the feature of light AIC card. Leading State Teachers (11-3) is at Ozarks, Arkansas A&M is at Hendrix and Harding center. Fred-Hardeman of Henderson, Tenn., in a non-conference game.

Third place Ouachita was forced into two overtimes last night to defeat Louisiana College 89-88 at Arkadelphia. Jim Perry, fouled as the final buzzer sounded in the second extra period, calmly sank the first of two free shots to sew it up for Ouachita.

The score was tied 75-75 at the end of regulation time and 78-78 after the first extra period.

Jody Jones tallied 32 points, his best total of the season, to lead Ouachita.

Henderson took a routine 78-62 victory over Southern State at Arkadelphia. Frank Dolan hit 21 points for the losers. Jim Reppo paced Henderson with 15.

Financing of Homes Keeps Going Higher

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you are appalled at the financing charges you must pay to buy a home, you have a reason.

They are at about the highest point in 30 years, and have jumped into the usury laws of some states.

Some mortgages, it is suspected in Washington, may actually have violated usury statutes, although it would take a court action to find out for sure.

For that reason, the government's Federal National Mortgage Assn. recently refused to buy a dozen or so mortgages offered for sale by Tennessee lenders, until their legality was tested.

That was a rather remarkable incident. In effect, one federal agency declined to accept obligations insured by another agency—the Federal Housing Administration—for fear the paper would be found illegal and void.

Among the 11 states whose usury laws forbid interest charges higher than 6 per cent, some have considered raising the ceiling so as not to choke off housing credit.

Builders and organized real estate dealers recently have attacked what they called excessive discounts demanded by lenders.

When the builder of a new house finds a buyer, he usually sells the mortgage to a bank or loan company, which will collect the monthly payments. When money is tight, the builder has to take a discount on the mortgage; in other words, he accepts less for it than its face value.

Lenders generally agree that a discount cannot be construed as part of the interest charge, even though the home buyer may pay for it ultimately. The builder who knows he will have to take a discount may simply jack up the price of the house to cover it.

Builders recently have reported lenders in some areas asking discounts of up to 10 or 12 per cent.

The federal housing agencies are showing some nervousness over the situation, because the FHA permits a 5 1/2 per cent interest rate on loans which it insures—just under the usury level of several states.

On top of that is added 1/4 of one per cent as an insurance premium, bringing the total charge to 6 1/4 per cent in the first year of the mortgage. If the insurance charge were held to be interest, the usury limit would be exceeded in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

However a Tennessee court has held in a test case that the insurance premium is not interest. Maryland's attorney general has ruled to the same effect.

But on certain low-cost homes involving mortgages of less than $8,000, the FHA permits the lender to add still another 1/4 of one per cent as a "service charge." This is intended to compensate the lender for the higher cost of handling a small mortgage.

That was the type of mortgage which FNMA questioned and sent back, pending formal assurance of its legality.

This was FNMA's concern: If a home owner could obtain a court ruling that the mortgage was usurious, FNMA would be holding a worthless piece of paper.

That is because Tennessee, like New York, is a state in which both principal and interest of a debt are voided if the terms of the loan violate the usury laws.

In North Carolina, Virginia and some other states the interest alone is forfeited.

Would it help the buyers of low-cost houses if FHA abolished the service charge? Not a bit. Lenders simply wouldn't take that type of mortgage loan. Few are making them now.

China-Russia Dealings Not Without Trouble

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Behind clouds of words about underlying friendship and solidarity indications can be detected of a spirited debate between the leaders of the Soviet and Chinese Communist parties.

The Kremlin chose no less a personage than Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to sign a long article in Pravda, the Soviet Communist newspaper, presenting Moscow's case. Despite the usual wordage about great friendship 'the article at times appeared to have a petulant tone.

One gets the impression the Chinese Communists have been fouling up Nikita Khrushchev's plans for finding a way of living with the Western democracies while communism waits confidently, though a bit impatiently, for capitalism to collapse under the pressure of Moscow's sustained political and economic offensives.

The Red Chinese leaders, much more in need of external tensions now than their Soviet brethren appear at less than enthusiastic about Khrushchev's new ventures into India and Southeast Asia.

Gromyko's Pravda article ostensibly was a salute to the 10th anniversary of the Chinese-Soviet mutual assistance pact of 1950. But he reminded the Chinese at the outset about all the Soviets had done for them in the establishment of new industries in China. In the words of Specialists there, in a steady stream of Soviet equipment to China and "all forms of friendly collaboration."

Gromyko then reminded the Chinese that under the 1950 agreement, both big Communist states expressed readiness to cooperate sincerely in all international activities aimed "at the establishment of peace and security in the whole world."

Gromyko also reminded Peiping that the Soviet Union is guided by the "five principles" first claimed by the Chinese themselves: mutual respect of sovereignty, territorial integrity, non-aggression, noninterference in internal affairs of other states, equality and mutual advantage and peaceful coexistence.

The Red Chinese are the ones who have kicked the five principles overboard. They invaded territory occupied for years by India and blatantly interfered in the Indonesian government's campaign against Chinese traders in rural areas of the Indonesian island of Java. Both nations are stops on Khrushchev's latest tour, which heightens Soviet unhappiness with their big Asian ally.

Field Brothers in 80th Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A couple of lively, oldsters—twin brothers—celebrated their 80th birthday yesterday by riding an old-fashioned bicycle around the block in heavy downtown traffic.

First W. Terry Field of Little Rock maneuvered the bike, with its huge front wheel, tiny rear one and no brake, through the traffic.

Then brother Talbot Field of Texarkana duplicated the feat.

The bicycle was built in the 1890s and Talbot Field bought it second hand in 1906 for $3.

Talbot brought it from Texarkana to challenge his brother to a birthday ride.

The spectators included Talbot Field Jr. of Hope, state representative from Hempstead County.

Youth Escapes From Industrial School

Supt. R. E. Hemphill said Moore, of Pine Bluff, wired around the ignition and drove away when a school employee left him alone in the car. The car later was found abandoned in south Pulaski County.

Hemphill said Moore had been taken to the University Medical Center for treatment. He escaped when the employee went into a drugstore on route back to the school.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. James W. Bockman of West Memphis has charged in a federal court suit that anti-Semitism led to revocation of his eclectic license in 1957.

Bockman, in a pleading filed yesterday, asked that the state Medical Board be forced to restore the license and pay him damages for "two years loss of medical practice and humiliation."

The suit charges that board members were prejudiced against Bockman because he is a Jew.

Declares the Democrats Go Too Far

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today Democrats have gone too far with what President Eisenhower called "despicable" criticism of the administration's defense program.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, said he thinks the critics of Eisenhower "denounced without naming at Wednesday's news conference have been hearing from the people. He added they are likely to hear more when Eisenhower appears on a national television broadcast Sunday night.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said in a separate interview he welcomes what he called Eisenhower's decision to "explain the confused defense picture."

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference whether he thinks the administration has misled the American people in any way or whether any money has been withheld from any needed weapon. He replied:

"If anybody — anybody — believes that I have deliberately misled the American people, I'd like to tell him to his face what I think about him. This is a charge that I think is despicable."

In Richmond, Va., Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), one of the most outspoken critics of administration defense policy, said "I don't know anybody who said the President has misled the people."

But he told a news conference he would speak out in the Senate again next week "to give more facts" about defense. "I believe the American people should have all the facts that won't help our enemies," he added.

Dirksen said Democrats have to take the responsibility for making statements that "reflect on the state of our defenses."

"I think they have gone too far," he said, "and I think some of them think they have gone too far." He added he senses a lessening of Democratic attacks on the defense field.

Frank Broyles Awarded by Sertoma Club

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Frank Broyles, the Sertoma Club's 1959 Service to Mankind award, headed today for Dallas where he will be honored tonight as Southwest Conference coach of the year.

Broyles spent several minutes praising Arkansas fans for their support and encouragement.

The Sertoma Club award and tonight's coach of the year award came to Broyles for his guiding the Arkansas Razorbacks to a 9-2 season which included a Southwest Conference co-championship and a Gator Bowl victory over Georgia Tech.

He was voted coach of the year by members of the Radio-Sports-Writers Assn.

Broyles came to Arkansas in 1957 after one year as head coach at Missouri. His charges lost their first six games but finished with four straight victories to warn that better things were coming in 1959.

"No honor I have received moves me as deeply as this one," Broyles said. "Since it's the first one that stands for service to others, I accept it only as the representative of my players and my staff."
